Day: Monday

The most impactful part of the video is the fundamental principle that our thoughts create our world and our destiny. According to the sources, the most powerful way to harness this is through a five-minute morning ritual performed while still in bed to program your state of mind for the entire day.

Key impactful concepts from this practice include:

- Connecting with the Source: The very first thought should be a "Good morning" to God (referred to as "Baba"). By remembering Him first, your state of mind connects to His, allowing His vibrations of peace and power to be "downloaded" into your soul.
- The Power of "I Am": You must be extremely careful with the words used after "I am" because they manifest into reality. Instead of saying "I am stressed" or "I am busy," which carry low vibrations, you should affirm "I am a peaceful soul" and "I am easy".
- Becoming a Giver (Satyugi Soul): A major shift occurs when you stop seeking respect or love from others and instead adopt the identity of a Satyugi (divine) soul who only gives. Affirming "I don't need anything from anyone; I need to give to everyone" changes your energy circle to a divine, white aura.
- Visualising Desired Reality: Impactful change comes from thinking about what you want to see tomorrow, rather than focusing on current problems. This involves visualising your body as perfectly healthy and your family as united, even if they currently seem to be disintegrating.
- Acting as an "Angel": By creating the thought "I am God's instrument" or "I am God's angel," you remain light and ensure that every soul you encounter receives happiness from you.
- The Mechanism of Creation: The process moves from the mind creating a thought to the intellect visualising it, which then leads to an experience that is recorded on the soul. This record eventually dictates your actions and, ultimately, your destiny.
